Hindi Grammar 2 (To have)

TO HAVE - How to express possession of physical objects

In this lesson, let's learn how to say "I have/ I don't have/ Do you have?" There is no verb in Hindi that expresses possession. Instead, an adverb पास (paas -close/nearby) is used. मेरे पास है can be used only with physical objects such as house, car, siblings, wife, pets, friends, money etc. However, it cannot be used in a sentence "I have a cold".

| | | |
|-----------------|--------------------------|-----------------------------------|
| मेरे पास है | mere paas hai | I have |
| तेरे पास है | tere paas hai | You have (informal) |
| तुम्हारे पास है | tumhaare paas hai | You have (informal) |
| आपके पास है | aapke paas hai | You have (formal) |
| इसके पास है | iske paas hai | He, she has (near to the sp.) |
| उसके पास है | uske paas hai | He, she has (far from the sp.) |
| हमारे पास है | hamaare paas hai | We have |
| तुम्हारे पास है | tumhaare paas hai | You have (informal) |
| आपके पास है | aapke paas hai | You have (formal) |
| इनके पास है | inke paas hai | They have (near to the speaker) |
| उनके पास है | unke paas hai | They have (far from the speaker.) |

To say “I don’t have”, just add नहीं (naheen – not) before the verb है (hai – is).

| | | |
|----------------------|---------------------------------|------------------------|
| मेरे पास नहीं है | mere paas naheen hai | I don't have |
| तेरे पास नहीं है | tere paas naheen hai | You don't have |
| तुम्हारे पास नहीं है | tumhaare paas naheen hai | You don't have |
| आपके पास नहीं है | aapke paas naheen hai | You don't have (form.) |
| इसके पास नहीं है | iske paasnaheen hai | He/she doesn't have |
| उसके पास नहीं है | uske paas naheen hai | He/she doesn't have |
| हमारे पास नहीं है | hamaare paas naheen hai | We don't have |
| तुम्हारे पास नहीं है | tumhaare paas naheen hai | You don't have |
| आपके पास नहीं है | aapke paas naheen hai | You don't have (for.) |
| इनके पास नहीं है | inke paas naheen hai | They don't have |
| उनके पास नहीं है | unke paas naheen hai | They don't have |

To ask “Do you have?” or “Does he have?” just add क्या (kyaa – what) in the beginning of a question.

क्या आपके पास है ? (Kyaa aapke paas hai? – Do you have?)

It is also possible to add क्या at the end of a sentence.

आपके पास है क्या? (Aapke paas hai kyaa? – Do you have?)

Also, it is common to ask questions without using क्या at all. To indicate a question, the intonation should be raised.

आपके पास भाई बहिन है? (Aapke paas bhaae- bahin hai? – Do you have brothers or sisters?)

One more way to say “I have” is just by dropping पास (paas – nearby) completely.

मेरे दो भाई और दो बहिन हैं। (Mere do bhaaee aur do bahinen hain. – I have two brothers and two sisters.)

Please read the dialogue between two children Raja and Ram. It illustrates the usage of “have”.

राजा: मेरे पास दो भाई हैं।

क्या तेरे पास भाई-बहिन है?

राम: हाँ, हैं. एक भाई और दो बहिन हैं।

राजा: वे कितने साल के हैं?

राम: मेरा एक भाई तेरह साल का है, बड़ी वाली बहिन सोलह साल की है और चोटी वाली - चार साल की है।

राजा: स्कूल जाते हैं वे?

राम: सिर्फ मैं और मेरा भाई जाते हैं।

राजा: बहिन क्यूँ नहीं जातें हैं?

राम: क्योंकि हमारे पास इतने पैसे नहीं हैं।

Raja: Mere paas do bhaaee hain. Kyaa tere paas bhaaee bahin hain?

Ram: Haan, hain. Ek bhaaee or do bahin hain.

Raja: Ve kitne saal ke hain?

Ram: Meraa ek bhaaee terah saal kaa hai, badee vatee bahin solah saal ki hai or choTee vatee chaar saal kee hai.

Raja: Skool jaaten hain ve?

Ram: Sirf main or mera bhaaee jaate hain.

Raja: Bahin kyuun naheen jaatee hain?

Ram: Kyonki hamaare paas itne paise naheen hain.

Raja: I have two brothers. Do you have any brothers or sisters?

Ram: Yes, I have. I have one brother and two sisters.

Raja: How old are they?

Ram: My brother is thirteen, my big sister is sixteen and my little sister is four.

Raja: Do they go to school?

Ram: Only my brother and I go (to school).

Raja: Why don't your sisters go?

Ram: Because we don't have (such) money.

Hindi Grammar 3 (Noun Genders)

Posted by CrazyLassi

Video Link - <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=8yLoxrTinLg>

Let's learn about Hindi nouns. Hindi nouns can be masculine or feminine. If you want to have a rough idea, masculine nouns end with -aa and feminine nouns end with -i in their singular. In real, however, the gender of each noun must be memorized.

MASCULINE NOUNS can be of two types:

| Type | Singular | Plural |
|------|------------|----------------------------|
| 1 | -aa | -e |
| 2 | all others | Plural is same as singular |

FEMININE NOUNS also can be of two types:

| Type | Singular | Plural |
|------|---------------|--------|
| 1 | -i, -ee, -iya | - iyan |
| 2 | all others | -en |

(Note: when I write “n” at the end of a word (and sometimes in the middle) but you can't see the letter न, that means there's a nasal sounds, in Devanagari noted by a dot, like in आँख, लड़कियाँ (eye, girls))

Exceptions:

Some nouns ending -aa can be feminine. For example some words derived from Sanskrit, like (भाषा – bhaShaa – language) and female names (रेखा- rekhaa – Rekha, नेहा-nehaa – Nehaa) etc. are of feminine gender.

Examples:

(Blue shade – masculine; pink shade – feminine)

Hindi adjectives change according to the nouns they modify. As well as nouns, adjectives can be of two types: those that change their ending (type 1) and those that don't (type 2).

Madhubani style elephant painting

Type 1 adjectives:

The type 1 adjectives would change their endings into –aa when they precede the singular masculine noun and change into “-e” when they precede a plural masculine noun. Type 1 adjectives would have “-ee” as their ending if they modify a singular feminine noun and they would keep the same ending in the plural, For example:

काला कुत्ता (kaalaa kutta – black dog, dog is masculine singular that ends in “-aa” so the adjective काला will end in “-aa” too)

काले कुत्ते (kaale kutte – black dogs, masculine plural that ends in “-e” so the adjective काले will end in “-e” too)

काली बिल्ली (kaalee billee – black cat, feminine singular that ends in “-ee” and the adjective काली will have its ending as “-ee” too)

काली बिल्लियाँ (kaalee billiyaan – black cats, feminine plural that ends in “-iyaan”, however adjective would be the same as feminine singular). So the feminine plural adjective is the same as the feminine singular.

In dictionary, you can easily recognize type adjective because they end in “-aa”, for example: बड़ा (badaa – big), मोटा (moTaa – fat), लंबा (lambaa – tall), सस्ता (sastaa – cheap), नीला (neelaa – blue), पुराना (puraanaa – old), नया (nayaa – new), पतला (patlaa – thin).

1. How to express the need

It is pretty easy to express the need in Hindi as that can be said in one word चाहिए (chaahie – is needed). Whether you want to say that you need something or someone else needs something, you use only one word all the time and it never changes.

| | | |
|-----------------|--------------------------|-------------------|
| मुझे चाहिए | mujhe chaahie | I need |
| तुझे चाहिए | tujhe chaahie | You need (casual) |
| तुम्हे चाहिए | tumhe chaahie | You need (casual) |
| आपको चाहिए | aapko chaahie | You need (polite) |
| इसको/उसको चाहिए | isko/usko chaahie | He/she needs |
| हमें चाहिए | hamen chaahie | We need |
| तुम्हे चाहिए | tumhe chaahie | You need (casual) |
| आपको चाहिए | aapko chaahie | You need (polite) |
| इनको/उनको चाहिए | inko/unko chahie | They need |

If translated literally, each phrase would mean “For me it is needed”, “for you it is needed” etc. You can read the following dialogues to see the examples चाहिए (chaahie – is needed) usages.

१. पसंद

1. How to say “I like” using noun पसंद (pasand – approval; choice; preference). The Hindi construction of “I like” is very similar to that of मेरे पास है (mere paas hai – I have) and चाहिए (chaahie – is wanted; is needful).

| | | |
|-----------------|-------------------------|-------------------|
| मुझे पसंद | mujhe pasand | I like |
| तुझे पसंद | tujhe pasand | You like (casual) |
| तुम्हे पसंद | tumhe pasand | You like (casual) |
| आपको पसंद | aapko pasand | You like (polite) |
| इसको/उसको पसंद | isko/usko pasand | He/she likes |
| हमें पसंद | hamen pasand | We like |
| तुम्हे पसंद | tumhe pasand | You like (casual) |
| आपको पसंद | aapko pasand | You like (polite) |
| इनको/ उनको पसंद | inko/unko pasand | They like |

Examples illustrating the usage of पसंद (pasand – approval; choice; preference):

मुझे भारत बहुत पसंद है।

mujhe bhaarat bahut pasand hai

I like India very much.

आप मुझे बहुत पसंद हैं।

aap mujhe bahut pasand hain

I like you very much.

मुझे यह साड़ी नहीं पसंद।

mujheyah saadee naheen

pasand

I don't like this sari.

आपको खाने में क्या - क्या पसंद है?

aapko khaane men kya kya

pasand hai?

What do you like to eat?

मुझे सिर्फ दाल रोटी पसंद है।

mujhe sirf daal roTee pasand

hai.

I only like daal and roti.

इसको शॉपिंग करना नहीं पसंद। isko shoping karnaa naheen

pasand

He doesn't like shopping.

क्या आपको यह तौफा पसंद है?

kyaa aapko yah tofaa pasand

hai?

Do you like this gift?

हाँ, पसंद है।

haan, pasand hai

Yes, I like.

पसंद meaning as in Oxford Hindi-English dictionary:

Pasand – 1. adj. approved, liked. 2.f. approval. 3. Choice; preference. पसंद आना (pasand aanaa) - to be approved, liked (by को (ko)); to please. पसंद करना (pasand karnaa) – to approve, to like, to choose, to prefer; to accept

(a submission) अमनपसंद (amanpasand) – adj. who approves peace; peace-loving दिलपसंद (dilpasand) – adj. pleasing to the heart, or mind.

Sari borders in the Indian market

२. अच्छा लगता

2. The second very common way to say “I like” is to use a phrase अच्छा लगता (achhaa lagtaa – seem good; think to be good; feel to be good). To say “I like” in Hindi we will say: मुझे अच्छा लगता है (mujhe achhaa lagtaa hai – I like). To say “I don’t like” we would add नहीं (naheen – no) before the verb and we would have मुझे अच्छा नहीं लगता (mujhe achhaa naheen lagtaa – I don’t like). To make a question “Do you like?” we would add क्या (kyaa – what; a word used to make a question) and we will have: क्या तुझे अच्छा लगता? (kyaa tujhe achhaa lagtaa – Do you like?).

| | | |
|----------------------|----------------------------------|-------------------|
| मुझे अच्छा लगता | mujhe achchhaa lagtaa | I like |
| तुझे अच्छा लगता | tujhe achchhaa lagtaa | You like (casual) |
| तुम्हे अच्छा लगता | tumhe achchhaa lagtaa | You like (casual) |
| आपको अच्छा लगता | aapko achchhaa lagtaa | You like (polite) |
| इसको/उसको अच्छा लगता | isko/unko achchhaa lagtaa | He/she likes |

| | | |
|----------------------|---------------------------------|-------------------|
| हमें अच्छा लगता | hamen achchhaa lagtaa | We like |
| तुम्हें अच्छा लगता | tumko achchhaa lagtaa | You like (casual) |
| आपको अच्छा लगता | aapko achchhaa lagtaa | You like (polite) |
| इनको/उनको अच्छा लगता | inko/unko achchhaa lagta | They like |

As you can see, अच्छा लगता never changes its endings no matter which person is using it. It is pretty easy to use it and I would recommend learning its past and future tenses too. If you want to say “I liked” or “I enjoyed” in the past tense, you can say: अच्छा लगा (achchhaa lagaa) and if you want to say “I’ll like” or “I’ll enjoy” you can say: अच्छा लगेगा (achchhaa lagegaa).

When does it change? It changes when we use अच्छा लगता (achchhaa lagtaa) when talking about a feminine noun. For example if we want to say “I like that girl” we say: मुझे वह लड़की अच्छी लगती (mujhe vah ladkee achchhee lagtee) but if we want to say “I like that boy”, we say मुझे वह लड़का अच्छा लगता (mujhe vah ladkaa achchhaa lagtaa).

Some more examples:

मुझे घर में रहना अच्छा लगता है।
mujhe ghar men rahnaa achchhaa lagtaa hai.
 I like staying at home.

मुझे बारिश अच्छी लगती है।
mujhe baarish achchhee lagtee hai.
 I like rain.

उसको वह लड़की अच्छी नहीं लगती है।
usko vah ladkee achchhee naheen lagtee hai
 He doesn't like that girl.

इंडिया आपको कैसा लगा था?
indiyaa aapko kaisaa lagaa tha
 How did you like India?

बहुत अच्छा लगा था।
bahut achchhaa lagaa tha
 I liked it.

३. शौक

3. The third way that can express something you like is to say मुझे...का शौक है (mujhe...kaa shauk hai – I like.../My hobby is.../My interest is...). It is used when you want to say what your hobby or interest or passion is. For example “I like reading” would be मुझे पढ़ने का शौक है (mujhe parhne kaa shauk hai). If you want to ask someone what is their hobby, you can say: आपको किस चीज़ का शौक है? (aapko kis cheez kaa shauk hai? – What is your hobby? Lit. you what kind thing of hobby is).

शौक shauq as in Oxford Hindi-English dictionary: 1. m. a desire, yearning; 2.

Predilection; taste (for, का); fancy (for). 3. Eagerness, pleasure (in doing sthg). 4. A hobby शौक फ़रमाइए! (shauq farmaaie) – help yourself!, take all you want! शौक मिटाना (shauq miTaanaa) – to satisfy a desire शौक होना (को) (shauq honaa (ko)) – to be fond (of some activity) शौक से (shauq se) – with pleasure, gladly, according to one’s wish.

Some example sentences:

मुझे डोसा खाने का बहुत शौक है

mujhe dosaa khaane kaa bahut shauq hai

I like eating dosa very much.

मुझे क्रिकेट खेलने का बहुत शौक है

mujhe krikeT khelne kaa bahut shauq hai

I like playing cricket very much.

उसको किताबें पढ़ने का बहुत शौक है

usko kitaben parhne kaa bahut shauq hai

He likes reading books very much.

वह लड्डू इतने शौक से खा रहा है

vah laddoo itne shauq se khaa rahaa hai

She is eating laddu with so much pleasure.

HINDI GRAMMAR 9 (How To Use Possessive Pronouns - Examples)

How to use possessive pronouns in Hindi

Hindi possessive pronouns change their endings depending on the number and gender of the noun that they go with. For example, if I want to say “my son” I would say मेरा बेटा (meraa beTaa - m, sg), “my daughter” would be मेरी बेटी (merEE beTee - f,sg), “my clothes” would be मेरे कपड़े (mere kapDe - m,pl), “my (girl) friends” would be मेरी सहेलियां (merEE saheliyaan - f,pl), however if we want to say “my father”, we would use plural masculine form to show respect and say मेरे पिताजी (mere pitaajee – m,sg, polite). In Hindi there is no difference who is saying मेरी बेटी (mere beTee – my daughter) – a woman or a man, the pronoun मेरी will depend on the noun that it precedes. It will change accordingly the number (singular or plural) and the gender (masculine or feminine).

A fragment on the temple's door

Hindi noun genders have to be memorized because there are too many irregular nouns that don't follow the rough rule that divides Hindi nouns into two groups: the ones that end in "-aa" (masculine) and the ones that end in "-ee" (feminine). The best way to learn the genders of Hindi nouns is to listen to Hindi language and read Hindi books and articles, also converse with Indian people until you know what Hindi sounds like. At that stage, you will naturally know the ending of possessive pronoun as you will be familiar with the sound of the right Hindi.

Hindi Grammar - Overview of Hindi Verbs and the Way to Use Them

The infinitive form of every Hindi verb ends in ना (-na):

खाना (khaanaa) = to eat

पीना (pīnaa) = to drink

जाना (jaanaa) = to go

आना (aanaa) = to come

करना (karnaa) = to do (remember this one as it's used in many compound verb forms)

देना (denaa) = to give

लेना (lenaa) = to take

लिखना (likhnaa) = to write

पढ़ना (paDhnaa) = to read

समझना (samajhnaa) = to understand

समझाना (samjhaanaa) = to explain (i.e. to make someone understand)

सीखना (sīkhnaa) = to learn

For the root of the verb, required for conjugation, remove its -na ending.

Making plurals:

In plural the masculine -aa ending becomes -e while the feminine -ī ending either remains -ī or becomes -i~ (nasalized):

-aa (ा) - general mark of masculine words (singular) - MASC. SG.

-e (े) - general mark of masculine words (plural) - MASC. PL.

-ī (ी) - general mark of feminine words (singular and plural) - FEM. SG. and PL.

-īn and -i~ - occasional mark of feminine words (plural) - FEM. PL.

Now back to verbs:

Add "ता" (ta) to verb root for masculine singular and "ते" (te) for masculine plural. Add "ती" (tī) for feminine singular and plural.

Examples:

खाता (khaataa) = eat पीता (pītaa) = drink etc.

However, although these verbs are now conjugated, they are not quite ready to use. One cannot say "Mai~n khaataa"; one must use the copula "to be," the most important verb in Hindi:

The verb "TO BE" (Hona - होना)

मैं हूँ (mai~ hu~) = I am

तु है (tu hai) = You (intimate) are

तुम हो (tum ho) = You are

वह है (voh hai) = He/She/It/That is हम हैं (ham hai~) = We are

आप हैं (aap hai~) = You are

वे हैं (ve hai~) = They are

Let's give you a pattern:

Verb root + TAA / TE / TĪ + Conjugated corresponding form of "Hona" (to be) = Present Imperfect Tense

Some examples:

NB: Hindi does not use articles

मैं खाता हूँ. (mai~ khaataa hu~) = I eat. (Said by a Male)

लडका खाता है. (laRkaa khaataa hai) = The (A) boy eats.

लडकी खाती है. (laRkī khaatī hai) = The (A) girl eats.

आप पीते हैं. (aap pīte hai~) = You (polite sg.) drink OR You (plural) drink.

मैं पानी पीता हूँ. (mai~ paanī pītaa hu~) = I drink water. (Said by a male)

तुम पानी पीते हो. (tum paanī pīte ho) = You drink water. NB: "tum" is the most used word for "you" and is actually plural. So, whenever you use it, conjugate the verb as plural.

A final, somewhat "funny," example:

मैं सिगरेट पीता हूँ. (mai~ sigaret pīta hu~). I smoke a cigarette (Said by a male) ... The literal meaning of the sentence is "I drink a cigarette." Every language has its oddities and peculiarities!

Present Continuous Tense:

Verb Stem + रहा / रही (rahae/they) + Present Tense of "Hona" (to be)

For those who don't like grammatical terms and don't know for sure what's "continuous tense", I'll tell that it's the same as the English verbs, ending in "-ing". So if you want to say that you "read" a book in the moment of speaking, you have to say "I am reading a book", not simply "I read a book", because the last could mean that you read a book in general, i.e. you're not reading it in the moment of speaking. So let's clear all that out with some examples.

- मैं किताब पढ़ रहा हूँ. (mai~ kitab padh raha hu~) = I'm reading a book.
- मैं पानी पी रहा हूँ. (mai~ pani pi raha hu~) = I'm drinking water.
- मैं रोटी खा रही हूँ. (mai~ roti kha rahi hu~) = I'm eating bread. (a girl speaking!)

The verbs stem and raha/rahe/rahi are pronounced almost as one (at once), although they're written separately. Sometimes in colloquial speech all is even shortened more. The "raha hu~" for example is pronounced "rahu~", "raha hai" as "rahai"...

Past Tense:

(This section needs to be revised as it does not account for the distinction between intransitive and transitive verbs. When forming the perfect tense (past) in Hindi, the verb will not always match the traditional subject of your sentence in gender/number (this depends on transitivity of the verb). Some of the examples below are incorrect for this reason and should be rewritten according to standard Hindi grammar and the "ne" construction.)

Building past is easy. Just take the root of a verb and add -a, -e, or -i, respectively for Masculine Singular, Masculine Plural and Feminine both - Singular and Plural:

Verb Stem + ा/े/ी (-A/-E/-I) = Past Tense

Note: For verbs, whose stem end in a vowel you have to add या/ये/यी (ya/ye/yi) E.g. खाना -> खा -> खाया(Khana -> Kha (stem) -> Khaya)

Some examples:

- मैं खाया. (mai~ khaya) = I ate.
- मैं पढ़ा. (mai~ padha) = I read.
- लड़का खाया. (larka khaya) = The boy ate.
- लड़की खायी. (larki khayi) = The girl ate.
- आप पीया. (aap piya) = You drank. (Sg. polite or Plural)
- मैं पानी पीया. (mai~ pani piya) = I drank water.
- तुम पानी पीये. (tum pani piye) = You drank water.

Some Verbs are irregular. I'll show you some of them (A little below you'll see the past of 'to be', which is needed to build the imperfect past tense, necessary to be able to say such phrases as "I've used to go ..."):

Past of जाना (Janaa = to go)

गया / गये / गयी / गयीं (gaya / gaye / gayi / gayi~) (1: Masc. Sg, 2: Masc. Pl. 3: Fem. Sg, 4: Fem. Pl.)

To build the past imperfect tense, we have first to learn the past tense of the "main" hindi verb: "to be" (Hona). Past of "hona" is even simpler than the present form:

Past of होना (Hona = To be)

था (tha) = was (for Masculine SINGULAR) थे (the) = were (for Masculine PLURAL)

थी (thi) = was (for Feminine SINGULAR) थीं (thi~) = was (for Feminine PLURAL)

Examples:

- मैं वहां था. (mai~ vaha~ tha.) = I was there.
- आप यहां थे. (aap yaha~ the) = You (polite) were here OR You (plural) were here.
- (वहां /vaha~/ = there, यहां /yaha~/ = here, जहां /jaha~/ = where)

Now as you know here/there/where (btw, there exists also another word for where = kaha~) I'll give you a Hindi proverb:

जहां धुआं है, वहां आग भी है. (jahan dhua~ hai, vaha~ aag bhi hai) = Where there is a smoke, there is a fire too.

Past Imperfect Tense:

... Verb Stem + ता / ते / ती (TA/TE/TI) + Past Tense of "Hona" (to be) = Past Imperfect Tense Stem + ता/ते/ती + था/थे/थी/थीं = Past Imperfect Tense The past imperfect tense is used to tell about habitual actions in the past. In English it's best translated with the pattern "used to + verb":

- मैं खाता था. (mai~ khata tha) = I used to eat.
- लडका खाता था. (larka khata tha) = The boy used to eat.
- लडकी खाती थी. (larki khati thi) = The girl used to eat.
- आप पीते थे. (aap pite the) = You used to drink. (Sg. polite or Plural)
- मैं पानी पीता था. (mai~ pani pita tha) = I used to drink water.
- तुम पानी पीते थे. (tum pani pite the) = You used to drink water.

Next comes of course the past continuous tense:

Past Continuous Tense:

Well, no need to help you much here. It's the same as the present continuous except that it's used the past tense of Hona:

Verb Stem + रहा / रहे / रही (raha/rahe/rahi) + Past Tense of "Hona" (to be) = Past Continuous Tense

- मैं किताब पढ़ रहा था. (mai~ kitab padh raha tha) = I was reading a book.
- मैं पानी पी रहा था. (mai~ pani pi raha tha) = I was drinking water.
- मैं रोटी खा रही थी. (mai~ roti kha rahi thi) = I was eating bread. (a girl speaking!)

I think you got it, now for the FUTURE:

Future Tense:

The Future tense is a bit more complicated than the past for it has more verb-endings for person than those by the past tense.

Future Imperfect Tense:

Let us conjugate a verb in the future tense, then I'll give the endings:

Future Imperfect of "Pina" (पीना = to drink)

- मैं पीउंगा (mai~ piunga) = I will drink
- तु पीएगा (tu piega) = You will drink
- तुम पीओगे (tum pioge) = You will drink
- वह पीएगा (voh piega) = He/She/It will drink.
- हम पीएंगे (ham pienge) = We will drink
- आप पीएंगे (aap pienge) = You will drink.
- वे पीएंगे (ve pienge) = They will drink.

For "I" use -unga, for "Tu" use "ega", for "Tum" use "oge", for "voh" use "ega" and for "ham/aap/ve" the plural form "enge".

Future Continuous Tense:

To build that tense use these endings: रहूंगा रहेगा रहेंगे रहोगे (rahunga/rahega/rahenge/rahoge) similarly as the forms for Future Imperfect together with the "conjugated" verb.

Verb Stem + TA / TE / TI + rahunga/rahega/rahenge/rahoge = Future Continuous Tense

Let's make the future continuous of the verb "pina" to make things clear:

Future Continuous of "Pina" (पीना = to drink)

- मैं पीता रहूंगा. (mai~ pita rahunga) = I will be drinking.
- तु पीता रहेगा. (tu pita rahega) = You will be drinking.
- तुम पीते रहोगे. (tum pite rahoge) = You will be drinking.
- वह पीता रहेगा. (voh pita rahega) = He/She/It will be drinking.
- हम पीते रहेंगे. (hum pite rahenge) = We will be drinking.
- आप पीते रहेंगे. (aap pite rahenge) = You will be drinking.
- वे पीते रहेंगे. (ve pite rahenge) = They will be drinking.

HINDI VERBS 1

Infinitive

Hindi verbs in infinitive always end in - ना (-naa). The remaining part of the word (the part without - ना) is called a stem. The infinitive form is also a dictionary form and it can have a wide variety of usages. It is useful to practice while omitting the - ना part as the stem will serve while changing the verb tenses and creating new verb forms.

Examples of infinitive verbs:

| | | |
|--------|----------------|---------|
| होना | hona | to be |
| करना | karna | to do |
| देना | dena | to give |
| लेना | lena | to take |
| बोलना | bolna | to say |
| जाना | jana | to go |
| बुलाना | bulaana | to call |

Other usages of verbs in their infinitive:

HINDI VERBS 4 (The Future Tense)

The future tense of Hindi verbs is pretty easy to make. There is a simple rule that helps to conjugate Hindi future tense and there are only three exceptions: होना, देना, लेना (honaa – to be; denaa – to give; lenaa – to take). You can see their conjugation below.

HOW TO CONJUGATE THE REGULAR VERBS TO GET A FUTURE TENSE:

When you conjugate a Hindi verb into any other tense, first remember its dictionary (or infinitive) form such as: जाना (jaanaa – to go). Now drop the ending –न (-naa) and you will get जा- (jaa-). To say “I will go” you will have to add a future tense ending for “I” – ऊँगा (-oongaa) and you’ll get जाऊँगा (jaaoongaa – I will go). The same applies for feminine gender, except that the ending should be –ई (-ee).

| Pronoun | Masc. | Fem. |
|-------------|--------|--------|
| मैं | -ऊँगा | -ऊँगी |
| main | - | - |
| I | oongaa | oongee |
| All other | -एगा | -एगी |
| singulars | -egaa | -egee |
| तुम | -ओगे | -ओगी |
| tum | -oge | -ogee |
| you | -एँगे | -एँगी |
| All plurals | -enge | -engee |

Hindi Grammar 12 - Verbs 5 (Past Continuous Tense)

Past Continuous Tense (-ing tense)

Past continuous tense describes actions that were going on in the past and may still continue in the present (may also be called past imperfective tense). Examples: I was going, I was eating, I was studying etc.

The past continuous tense is made out of a verb stem (a verb without – na ending), rahaa/rahee/rahe and an auxiliary verb था/थी/थे thaa/thee/the (which is the past form of an irregular auxiliary verb होना hona (to be)). For example:

| जाना | जा | रहा | था |
|---|---|---|--|
| jaanaa | jaa | rahaa | thaa |
| (An infinitive verb with the ending “-naa”) | (the stem of the verb without its ending) | (a word that gives a continuous sense) | (auxiliary verb honaa “to be” in its past tense) |

The past continuous tense’s structure is exactly the same as that of the present continuous and its one of the easiest structures to understand and use in Hindi grammar.

Hindi Grammar 13 - Verbs 6 (Past Imperfective Tense ("Used to"))

The past imperfective tense is the “used to” tense. For example: “I used to go to school”, “I used to work as an accountant”, “I used to play drums”, “I used to live in India”, “I used to have a dog”.

To make the past imperfective tense you will have to:

- * Take a verb in its infinitive/dictionary form that usually ends in "-na";
- * Remove the ending "-na" and add the ending "-ta";
- * Add an auxiliary/helping verb "to be" in its past form (था - tha - was);

Look at this comparison of present simple and past imperfective:

Present simple tense: “मैं काम करता हूँ” (Main kaam kartaa hoon – I work)

Past imperfective tense: “मैं काम करता था” (Main kaam kartaa thaa – I used to work).

The difference is, we use “था” (tha – was, m) instead of “हूँ” (hoon – am, f/m).

| Subject pronoun | Verb | Helping verb “to be” | Complete phrase |
|-------------------------|---------------------------------------|-----------------------------------|---|
| मैं Main I | कर + ता kar + taa did | था thaa (was, m, sg) | मैं करता था। Main kartaa thaa. I used to do. |
| मैं Main I | पढ़ + ता parh + taa read | था thaa (was, m, sg) | मैं पढ़ता था। Main parhtaa thaa. I used to read. |

| | | | |
|------|-------------|--------------|---------------------|
| मैं | जा + ता | था | मैं जाता था। |
| Main | jaa + taa | thaa | Main jaataa thaa. |
| I | went | (was, m, sg) | I used to go. |
| मैं | सुन + ता | था | मैं सुनता था। |
| Main | sun + taa | thaa | Main suntaa thaa. |
| I | listened | (was, m, sg) | I used to listen. |
| मैं | रह + ता | था | मैं रहता था। |
| Main | rah + taa | thaa | Main rahtaa thaa. |
| I | lived | (was, m, sg) | I used to live. |
| मैं | गा + ता | था | मैं गाता था। |
| Main | gaa + taa | thaa | Main gaataa thaa. |
| I | sang | (was, m, sg) | I used to sing. |
| मैं | बना + ता | था | मैं बनाता था। |
| Main | banaa + taa | thaa | Main banaataa thaa. |
| I | made | (was, m, sg) | I used to make. |
| मैं | सोच + ता | था | मैं सोचता था। |
| Main | soch + taa | thaa | Main sochtaa thaa. |
| I | thought | (was, m, sg) | I used to think. |

(This chart shows an example of what does the imperfective past tense (“used to”) look like in Hindi. If you wonder what does “कर + ता” mean and what is the plus for, it is to show how the verb has changed from its dictionary form. Let’s say you find a Hindi verb “करना” (karnaa – to do) in the dictionary in its infinitive form that ends with “-na” and you want to change it into the past imperfective tense, first thing you need to do is to drop the ending “-na” and add “-ta” which is the suffix for the present simple and past tense imperfective tense. Then, you add “tha” which is the verb “hona” (to be) in its past tense form and is used as a helping verb such as the English “have”.)

1. In this chart you will be introduced to all the forms of the auxiliary verb “to be” in its past tense. As the auxiliary verb “to be” changes depending on the gender and number and is an irregular verb, it is important to first learn its past forms.

Hindi Grammar 14 - Verbs 7 (Simple Past Tense)

We have learned how to use Simple Imperfective (I used to do) and Past Continuous (I am doing) tenses. In Hindi it would sound:

| | | |
|---------------|----------------------------|---------------|
| मैं जाता था | Main jaataa thaa | I used to go. |
| मैं जा रहा था | Main jaa rahaa thaa | I was going. |

In both cases, we added different endings to the verb stem “जा” (जाना – jaanaa – to go without the ending “-na”).

At the Taj Mahal complex in Agra

The past continuous and past imperfective tenses were quite easy to learn and the reason why I took so much time posting the simple past or perfective tense was because it's slightly trickier. Why is it trickier? To be able to use the past simple tense properly, we need to learn to differentiate between intransitive and transitive verbs as well as give more attention to the noun genders. We will also need to learn about postposition “ने” (ne).

WHAT ARE TRANSITIVE AND INTRANSITIVE VERBS?

Intransitive verbs are those that don't have an object:

"The boy laughed". (We cannot ask: "What did he laugh?")

Transitive verbs are those that have an object:

"The boy read the book". (We can ask: "What did he read?")

1. INTRANSITIVE VERBS

To simply express a completed action that has no object ("I got up", "I slept", "He laughed", "We ran", "They arrived") we will use this formula:

| Personal pronoun | Verb stem | Ending | Outcome |
|-----------------------------|-----------------------------------|--------------------|---|
| मैं Main I (m) | उठ uThaa get up/rise | -आ -aa | मैं उठा Main uThaa I got up/rose |
| मैं Main I (m) | सो so sleep | -या -yaa | मैं सोया Main soya I slept |
| वह Vah She | हँस hans laugh | -ई -ee | वह हँसी Vah hansee She laughed |
| हम Ham We (m) | भाग bhaag run | -ए -e | हम भागे Ham bhaage We ran |
| वे Ve They (f) | पहुँच pahoonch reach | -ई -een | वे पहुँची Ve pahooncheen They reached. |

After looking at this table you can work out how intransitive verbs are built. You may notice that the ending varies between -आ, -ए, -ई, -ई (-a, -e, -ee, -een). Intransitive verbs agree with the subject, so if the speaker is male, he will say: “Main uthaa” (I got up), a female would say: “Main uthee”, talking about a group of men, we’ll say “Ve uthe” and talking about a group of women, we’ll say: “Ve utheen”, using the nasal sound at the end (I use “n” to note a nasal sound).

| | | |
|---------------|-------------------------|----------------|
| लड़का उठा | ladkaa uThaa | A boy got up. |
| लड़के उठे | ladke uThe | Boys got up. |
| | | |
| लड़की उठी | ladkee uThee | A girl got up. |
| लड़कियां उठीं | ladkiyaan uTheen | Girls got up. |

So by learning intransitive verbs you will be able to describe the state and motion that happened in the past such as:

| | | |
|--------------------------|--------------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| मैं सुबह जल्दी उठा। | Main subah jaldee uThaa. | I woke up early in the morning. |
| मेरी बहिन सड़क पे दौड़ी। | Meree bahin saDak pe daurhee. | My sister ran in the street. |
| हमारे रिश्तेदार आये। | Hamaare rishtedaar aaye. | Our relatives came. |
| मेहमान वहा बैठे। | Mehmaan vahaa beThe. | Guest sat there. |
| रुचिका थोड़ा मुस्कुरायी। | Ruchikaa thoDaa muskuraayee. | Ruchika smiled a little. |
| किताब मेज़ पर पड़ी थी । | Kitaab mez par paDee thee. | The book was on the table. |
| फिर वह यह बोला। | Phir vah yah bola. | Then he said this. |
| मेरे पति बहार गए थे । | Mere pati bahaar gaye the. | My husband went outside. |

You may have noticed that some verbs in the perfective tense end with “-aa”, “-e”, “-ee” or “-een” but there are some that end in “-yaa”, “-ye”, “-yee” and “-yeen”.

So all the verbs that have a stem that ends with a consonant, like “हंस+ना” (hans+naa – to laugh) or “भाग+ना” (bhaag+naa – to run), they will use the endings “-aa”, “-e”, “-ee” and “-een”.

These verb stems that end with a vowel will use endings with “ya” in the beginning. For example: “सो+ना” (so+naa – to sleep) will become सो+या (so+yaa – slept); “आ+ना” (aa+naa – to come) will become “आ+या” (aa+yaa – came).
